ORCHIDS, PIGS, MULES IN THIS FAMILY MIX-UP

Plower Business and Appellations for Wife's Family Cause Separation Suit.

Supreme Court Justice Tompkins et White Plains has declined to award alimony, pending trial, but allowed $150 counsel fees in the separation action brought by Mrs. Maria A. De Carrillo against Luis F. De Carrific of Orienta Point, who is known as the Orchid King.

Justice Tompkins decided that as the plaintiff has the orchid business and the real estate in her name and and the real estate in her name and is in control of both, alimony is not necessary. Mrs. De Carrillo charges oruel and inhuman treatment.

De Carrillo says that his daughter, Mrs. Roberta Putnam, is to blame for his marital troubles. He denies that he ever called his wife and family such names as "pigs and dogs." He recalls, however, that he did say one of them ought to be bridled like a pig, but that since pigs cannot be bridled he should have said like a mule.
